

Information for employers: Tax and social security contribution treatment of contributions to PKDW

Pursuant to § 3 No. 63 Income Tax Act (EStG), the employee may contribute up to 8 % of the respective contribution assessment ceiling in the statutory pension insurance West (BBG) to the pension fund tax-free each year. In 2025, this is EUR 7,728, i.e. EUR 644 per month.

Contributions up to 4 % of BBG (EUR 3,864) are also exempt of social security contributions.

If the pension commitment was made before 1 January 2005, the employee can alternatively contribute EUR 1,752 to the company pension scheme in accordance with § 40 b EStG, i.e. taxed at 20 % (plus church tax), if at least one contribution was legally taxed in accordance with § 40 b EStG before 1 January 2018. In this case, the contribution made in accordance with § 40 b EStG is to be credited against the maximum taxable subsidy volume of § 3 no. 63 EStG.

Contributions that exceed the limits of § 3 no. 63 EStG and § 40b EStG can only be made from individually taxed income.

If the annual premium exceeds 8 % of the BBG (in 2025: EUR 7,728), an application for special payment is required. If the member has also insured occupational invalidity cover, a current health check will be carried out if necessary.

The benefits (pension or (partial) lump-sum) from tax-free contributions are fully taxable and subject to health insurance contributions if there is compulsory insurance in the statutory health insurance scheme.

Benefits from lump-sum and individually taxed contributions to the pension fund are only taxable at the rate of return when the pension is paid.
